RE: Association with Trades Monitor

To Whom It May Concern,

Linkfire has been associated with Trades Monitor for more than four years. Many of our clients are Owners Corporations or large facility managers that have engaged Trades Monitor to screen their contractors for compliance. They have been screening Linkfire over this period.

At the beginning, we did not warm to the idea of having a third party scrutinizing our OH&S and compliance systems; but as time progressed, we have changed our way of thinking. We now embrace the Trades Monitor system. Complying with their requests not only helps our internal business compliance systems; but we also use it as a marketing tool. We have found that our clients and potential clients see more value in our business if we are audited and compliant with a company such as Trades Monitor.

I recommend to contractors supplying services to Owners Corporations or large facility managers that they embrace the Trades Monitor system and let them work with you.

Regards
LinkFire Pty. Ltd.
