To Whom it may Concern,

RE: Services of Trades Monitor

We have been using the Trades Monitor contractor management system now since 2005. In our business we engage thousands of contractors each year. Trades Monitor have managed to reduce our risk in this area and enabled us to comply with Occupation Health and Safety obligations and saved us time, money and a lot of paperwork along the way.

Our contractors have worked well with the system, and although at first there was a learning curve for them, over time our contractors have come to view the system as an efficient way to collect information, and also allows 'good' contractors to be recognised as such.

We are extremely happy with the services that Trades Monitor provides which have enabled us to minimise our risk in this area for a very reasonable price.

Kind regards,
